CWF's foam cubes are shipped vacuum packed to get the best freight rates possible. Vacuum packing does not harm the foam for a short period of time. However, ALL vacuumed packages should be opened immediately upon receipt. A vacuum package should never be left in a vacuumed state longer than 2 weeks after delivery.

Failure to unpack vacuum packed foam will result in permanent damage to the product. CWF cannot and will not be responsible for damage resulting from your failure to comply with these instructions.

CAUTION: Care should be taken when opening a vacuumed package. A razor knife can be used, but caution must be taken to prevent damage to foam/product inside the plastic covering.
